ZANE RUN | BIOGRAPHY

Zane Run is Zeke Blake, Justin Rector, Dean Connors, and Brad Wilson, and Jacob Moore. But Zane Run is much more than these five players. It's the echo of a distant rifle on the first Monday after Thanksgiving. It's the party at the lake that lasts all weekend long. It's friends from college that will be friends forever.

In 2014, founding member Dean Connors sought out the answer to the question, "What does Wheeling, WV sound like?" This search led to other prominent musicians from the region, and one by one, the nucleus came together.

Zane Run's debut single, The Devil in Me, was released in late 2014. Immediately impacting local terrestrial radio as well as Pandora internet radio, The Devil in Me continues to sell steadily in the region as well as worldwide. No one could be more surprised than the guys themselves.

Lead singer and The Devil in Me songwriter Zeke Blake says, "I never ever thought a simple song I wrote in my college dorm room two years ago would ever see the light of day. Now I hear it on the radio and it just blows me away every time."

Zane Run released their second single, the infectious guitar driven Bonnie & Clyde in February of 2015 with rotation on four radio stations in the Pittsburgh, PA and Wheeling, WV markets, IHeartRadio and Pandora.

Zane Run's live shows have rapidly become an event unto themselves. Turning clubs into concert halls, the party starts on the downbeat and by the time it's over, audiences aren't sure if they should go home or call their mothers. They throw down everything from Jason Aldean to AC/DC and everything in between.

Their newest track, How's the Fishin' has just released to amazing reviews and large download numbers. It is poised to surpass the previous singles in record time!
